ZITHA TECH SPECIALTY CABLES (Pty) Ltd

Mari Optical Splitter Manufacturer

Overview

Custom manufacturer of tempered or fabricated glasses, optical coatings, mirrors, lenses, and filters.

Key Takeaways

Several global manufacturers produce optical beam splitters suitable for applications like Mari optical splitters, including Chroma Technology, Moxtek, Argyle International, Tower Optical, and Lambda Research Optics.Key Manufacturers
• Chroma Technology Corporation – Based in Bellows Falls, Vermont, USA, Chroma specializes in precision optical filters and beam splitters for fluorescence microscopy, imaging systems, and scientific research applications, offering high-quality optical solutions globally .

• Moxtek, Inc. – Located in Orem, Utah, USA, Moxtek manufactures advanced nano-optical components, including wire-grid polarizers and X-ray optics, suitable for visible to near-infrared applications .

• Argyle International, Inc. – Founded in China with a sales office in Princeton, NJ, USA, Argyle produces customized optical components such as lenses, prisms, mirrors, and light pipes, along with coatings and tooling for precision optics .

• Tower Optical Corporation – Based in Florida, USA, Tower Optical manufactures precision optics including waveplates, lenses, filters, and optical flats for photonics, lasers, telecommunications, and medical instruments .

• Lambda Research Optics – Offers catalog and custom optical components including beamsplitters, mirrors, lenses, and polarizers for defense, commercial, and medical laser applications. They provide high-power coatings and precision polishing for a wide range of substrates .
Additional Suppliers

Other notable suppliers include Alpine Research Optics (ARO), Edmund Optics, and companies listed in directories like GoPhotonics and Metoree, which provide extensive listings of over 40 beam splitter manufacturers worldwide . These suppliers offer a variety of beam splitter types, including cube, plate, pellicle, polarizing, and dichroic splitters, with coatings for UV, visible, and IR applications.

Considerations for Selection

When choosing a manufacturer for Mari optical splitters, consider:

• Type of splitter (cube, plate, pellicle, polarizing, non-polarizing)

• Wavelength range and coating specifications

• Power handling and mechanical stability

• Customization capabilities for specific applications

• Geographic location for shipping and support These factors ensure the selected manufacturer can meet the technical and operational requirements of your optical system . By reviewing these manufacturers and their product offerings, you can identify suppliers capable of providing high-quality Mari optical splitters for research, industrial, or medical applications.
