Gavin Electrical Engineering Ltd specializes in custom-built power distribution panels, MCCs, and IP-rated distribution boards for commercial and industrial use across the UK. Their panels are designed for maximum reliability and safety, with IP ratings from IP44 to IP68, and comply with BS EN 61439 and other British and European standards. They also provide Motor Control Centres (MCCs) and specialist panels for heating systems and industrial automation, with full documentation for installation and compliance . R Baker offers design and manufacture of distribution and fuse panels, including MCCB panels for military and hazardous applications. They provide custom-built solutions for indoor and outdoor use, with IP ratings up to IP66 and ATEX-certified options. Their in-house team handles design, reverse engineering, and manufacturing to meet unique specifications, including regulatory compliance for ATEX, IECEx, and FM standards . Cablelynx Ltd provides box and panel builds, including small plastic enclosures to large stainless steel units. They offer full assembly, testing, and compliance with customer drawings, leveraging ISO 9001-certified processes. Their team assists with component sourcing, cost reduction, and custom sub-assemblies, making them a full solution provider for electrical panel requirements .

International Manufacturers

Wieland Electric supplies distribution boxes for decentralized electrical installations, building automation, and industrial plants. Their solutions support pluggable installation, flexible building systems, and energy-efficient designs. Wieland's distribution boxes comply with IEC 61439 and IEC 61535 standards, providing robust and modular solutions for diverse applications . DirectIndustry Suppliers offer a wide range of distribution enclosures and boxes, including high-strength ABS and PC materials suitable for indoor and outdoor use. These enclosures support strong current connections, fiber optic management, and modular configurations for various electrical installations .

Key Considerations

When selecting a manufacturer, consider:

• Compliance and Standards: Ensure panels meet relevant IP ratings, BS EN, IEC, or ATEX standards.

• Customization: Ability to design panels for specific applications, including hazardous or industrial environments.

• Material and Durability: Options for plastic, metal, or stainless steel enclosures depending on environmental conditions.

• Support Services: Design consultation, assembly, testing, and documentation for installation and regulatory compliance. These manufacturers provide comprehensive solutions for distribution boxes and complete panels, catering to a wide range of industrial, commercial, and residential electrical needs.
