Ratio IPDU Ratio offers intelligent PDUs with advanced monitoring, remote access, and outlet-level control. These units allow datacenter administrators to track power consumption, environmental conditions, and perform remote switching . Prices for Ratio iPDUs are generally in the €500–€1,800 range, depending on the number of outlets and smart functionalities.

Factors Affecting Price

• Number of outlets: More outlets increase cost.

• Power capacity: Higher amperage or 3-phase support raises price.

• Intelligent features: Metering, switching, and remote monitoring add to cost.

• Form factor: Vertical vs. horizontal rack units may differ in price.

• Vendor and warranty: Established brands like Schneider Electric often command higher prices due to reliability and support.

Recommendation

For an accurate price list, it is recommended to contact vendors directly or request a quotation through their websites. Many suppliers, including Schneider Electric, BLUETTI, Norden, and Ratio, offer customized solutions and volume discounts for data center deployments. By comparing features, capacity, and vendor support, you can select an iPDU that balances cost with the required functionality for your data center or server rack environment.
